Overview

Trigger:

Agency payroll staff wants a report showing FLSA exempt employees that lost comp time at the anniversary period.

Business Process Procedure Overview
Comp time hours are deleted once a year for FLSA exempt employees. Each agency has established the anniversary comp delete period in which any comp hours are lost for FLSA exempt employees. This report allows agencies to identify employees who lost comp time that was not used before the end of the anniversary period. The comp time is not actually deleted until the pay period after the anniversary period in order for employees to use it during the specified pay period. As a result, comp time that is earned in the pay period in which the delete occurs is deleted as well. Agencies can use this report to identify employees that lost comp in error. The "Earned in year-period" column on the report shows how many hours the employee accrued in the pay period following the anniversary period. A quota correction to increase comp by the number of hours in the "Earned in year-period" column should be entered with an effective date that is two pay periods after the anniversary period.
